

Master Module 2012 “Gender Medicine”

The Institute of Gender in Medicine (GIM), Charité-Universitätsmedizin, in Berlin invites professionals and students to apply for the Master Module “Gender Medicine”.

The aim of this module “Gender Medicine 2012” is to impart knowledge and increase awareness in this novel and important field of medicine. Internationally renowned experts of Gender Medicine provide comprehensive knowledge on sex and gender specific aspects in seven medical disciplines related to clinical and public health issues and relevant aspects for medical therapy in one short course.

To optimise the learning success we offer a “blended learning“ teaching concept with 32 hours attendance time divided in lectures and seminars, 60 hours self-organized learning with mentoring and the aim to make up a written exam (Take Home Exam) as well as the opportunity to use “e-learning course” material.
